ROANOKE, VA., August 27.—The game this afternoon was a pitchers' battle, before about even. It required ten innings to decide the content, which finally went to Richmond by the acore of 2 to 1. Long and Smith were the opposing slab artists, and each kept the litts made off him well scattered. For eight innings it looked like a case of one to nothing in favor of Reaheke, but by a spurt in batting and sharp base ribning the Lawmakets succeeded in winning out.

The ball was hit freely by both teams, and it is surprising that the score was not larger. The game was featureless save the long drives to center-field by Benbow and Blackburn. Hicke was thrown out on what was practically a safe hit to right by sharp fielding by Kaufman. Score:

JYNCHBURG, VA., August 27.—But for the Timely and firm interference of the local police in the last half of the ninth taning this afternoon, when the score was at ite, there is no telling what kind of a row between the Norfolk players and Umpire Rollins, with the local fans to protect the umpire, was brewing.

protect the umpire, was brewing.

Bentley dropped the ball after touching Clarke out at the plate in the seventhinning, giving the visitors a tally, the first of the contest. In the inth inning Daringer walked, Bowen singled and Daringer scored on McKevitt's single, Bowen going to third and McKevitt to second on the throw home to stop Daringer. Bowen started home, and McMahon claimed the coacher forcibly stopped him. He protested, and when Unipire Rollins did not see the play his way. Rollins alleges McMahon cursed him.

He was fined and ordered out of the grounds. When he did not go, the special officer was called in, and but for the presence of a regular sergeant and two patrolmen, the probable result cannot be conjectured. Clarke and Rollins got into a war of words, and the captain was ordered to the bench. This, however, was withdrawn, and when the visitors were slow to take the field to resume play, the game, with the second and third bases occupied and no one out, was forfeited to Lynchburg.

When the grandstand domanded that the game be finished, Manager Grim agreed to walve the protest, but Clarke claimed he had no right to de so, and the game was not completed.

Big Shuman An Unsolvable Problem for Tobacconists.

Problem for Tobacconists.

(Special to The Times-Dispation.)
NORFOLK, VA. August 27.—Portsmouth won the game from Danville in the first inning to-day. The big schuman was in the box for the Truckers, and the visitors never were in the hunt for runs, tour hits, some of those scratches, being the sum of the stick-work of the visitors. The big boy won the game with the greatest ease.

But not a run made by Portsmouth was cenned. Beans pitched a good game for Danville, but his support was at times weak. Bepecially was this true of the first inning, the transgressions of the visitors being more in the nature of inisplays rather than in technical errors.

Aside from the pitching of Shuman, the game was not conspicuous for brilliant playing. Scote:

'RED" WALSH HELD IN HIGH ESTEEM

Expert Baseball Players Consider Him One of the Best Catchers in the State League.

"Red" Walsh, released by Lyachburg last week, has always been mentioned as one of the best catchers in the league, Just why he was let out by Grim remains a part of unwritten baseball history. "Red" was a great favorite here, always aggressive, and as a coacher he had no equal.

Watson, who was released by both Lynchburg and Danville, is proving a good man for Roanske. He is hitting close to the 1800 mark and has improved wonderfully in his fielding.

Bronne, recently signed by Norfolk, and who defeated Richmond here last Friday, is no youngster, he having seen service in the Southern, South Atlantic and South Carolina Leagues. He has worlds of speed, but is malined to be crratic at

If Richmond can take the next two games from Roanoke and Norfolk con-linues to lose, she will still have a fight-ing chance for second place.

Cuddy played a star game yesterday. He scored one of the two runs, accepted seven chances without an error and se-cured two hits out of three times at bat, grations, the team has been left without a man who can play either of the ends, and not being allowed to draw from the freshman class, it must develop them from what material was left over from last year. Tooker and Brasher, who held down the two ends last year, have been graduated, and O'Brien, who was an excellent substitute at this position, has been dropped on account of his studies. Tooker, it will be remembered, was Princeton's best drop kicker, and the only man from any college who scored against Yale last year. His loss will be severely felt.

Graduation has otherwise workened the team greatly. Bard at half and Rafferty work, and other men must be secured this year to fill their places. Waller, who substituted at guard, has been dropped on account of his studies. This leaves the team without even a substitute end, short a guard and a substitute guard, minus one of last year's halfbacks, and perhaps deprived of other regular players, several of whom are back in studies. M. J. Flood, of Melbourne, Australia, who has been appointed trainer for the team, is expected here in a few days. Flood is to fill the place made vacant by the death of "Jim" Itohinson, Princeton's veteran trainer. Flood comes from the New York Athletic Club, and is said to be a very capable man.

The team will also have a new head coach in the person of William Roper, of the class of 1901.

PRESHO, S. D., August 27.—The engineer and fireman of a freight train on the Chamberlah-Blück Hills extension had a thrilling encounter with a bunch of rattlesnakes between this place and Murdo. The fiteman discovered half a dozen big fellows sunning themselves on the rails, and, showing no disposition to get out of the way of the oncoming train. The sporting blood of the engineer and fireman was aroused, and they determined to give the rattlers a chance for their lives.

The train was stopped, and, arming themselves with sticks, the engine driver and freman gave battle to the big diamend backs. Just as the fight was at its most interesting climax, bhe sport was cut short by the train suddenly starting to back. In the baste of shutting the throttle, the reverse lever had been thrown, and the train started to run in the direction from which it had come. Not to be deprived of trophies of their brief but desporate battle, the fireman and engine driver each selzed a dead rattler and sprinted for the locomotive, catching it before it had gained much headway. The rattlers killed were more than six feet in length, one having thirteen rattless and a button, and the other ten.
